Wakame Salad with Whole Ocean Clams, this and other great clam recipes available at SeaWatch.com

SEA WATCH WHOLE OCEAN CLAMS

Sea Watch Whole Ocean Clams are processed from the Ocean Quahog Clam (Arctica islandica). We take the foot muscle from the rest of the body meat and remove the belly cavity. This leaves us with the largest solid muscle of the clam. The clams are blanched and canned in a flavorful top off of juice. These clams come out of the can fully cooked and ready to use. They are great where a visual impact is desired such as salads, sauces, stir fry, casinos and on and on. They can be used in place of fresh clams at one third the cost. There are approx. 25 clams in 15 oz. can and 95 clams in 51 oz. can.
